

2025 Queensland History Week: Spirit Competition

Queensland History Teachers' Association (QHTA) is holding a History Week Spirit Competition, where schools and organisations have the chance to showcase their creativity, enthusiasm, and commitment to history education. We're inviting all participating schools and organisations to document their History Week activities and share them on our Facebook page using the hashtag #HistoryWeekAust.

Here's how it works:

- Host History Week events at your school from 19th to 23rd May, making sure to capture the excitement and engagement of students and staff.
- Document your History Week activities through photos, videos, or written descriptions.
- Share your content on our QHTA Facebook page using the hashtag #HistoryWeekAust. Be sure to tag your school or organisation and encourage others to like, comment, and share!

The school or organisation that demonstrates the most History Week spirit, creativity, and community engagement will be awarded a fantastic prize. That's not all – we'll also invite the winning organiser to receive their prize and be recognised at the upcoming State Conference, where they'll have the chance to share their History Week journey with educators from across Queensland.

This competition is not only a chance to showcase the incredible work happening in your school or organisation but also an opportunity to inspire others and foster a love for history in our communities.

So, rally your students and staff, unleash your creativity, and let's make History Week 19-23rd May an unforgettable celebration of our shared past!
